

Dokspace construction business platforms enter Asian market

Vienna, September 16, 2015 – Dokspace, a leading Austrian provider of on-line project collaboration and documents' repository for investors, project developers and construction companies, entered the Asian market as it signed a contract to deploy its web platform at one of the Projects of Meinhardt (Vietnam) Ltd. in Ho Chi Minh City.

Meinhardt will provide project management, site supervision and quantity survey services for 11 Towers with up to 50 floors of the Vinhomes Central Park Project . As a collaboration platform between all participants in this large project, Meinhardt chooses the dokspace service due to its high level of customisation and personalisation.

The dokspace cloud service for project information sharing and hypertext collaboration environment is widely used by Austrian construction, architectural firms and real estate investors. The company's international expansion started with platforms deployed in Germany and Eastern Europe.

Dokspace offers web based infrastructure, secure and controlled, for real estate projects and investors. It guarantees reliable data transfer and storage, efficient communication and sharing of all investors and construction documents. Dokspace platforms simplify cooperation, guarantee efficient information sharing, save time and reduce costs.
